

Life is a battle field and only serious minded have a chance of victory.

Life does not give participation trophies.

Anything worth having must be fought for. The only thing that is free is cheese in the mouse trap.

We don't treasure things that we get free regardless of how expensive they are. My jeans story

There are 2 types of struggles

1. Struggle as a slave in bondage
2. Struggle as soldier for promise land

The difference between the two is one requires mental focus and determination and the other is mentally idol.

Four Stages of Fighting

1. God is fighting for us:

In this stage all you need is Desire and obedience to his plan.

2. Fighting to stay alive:

In this stage God is developing trust in Him and His process

In this place you are:

- Out of the familiar and in the unknown.
- Taken a step of faith but facing serious challenges
- Not in bondage anymore but not in the promise land yet.
- Left old bad friends but didn't get good new friends yet.
- Started business with big great plans for the future but its not going according to the plan
- Like gold is refined in the fire so you are purified as you go through trials and test
- Trust God that started a good work in you He will bring it to completion
- This stage is of your life is not to kill and bury you in this desert.
- This stage is where the most dreams die because of negativity and complaining.

3. Fighting for the promise land

- In this stage God wants to reveal your identity and authority
- This season God works on your mindset
- In these season you beginning to see small victories and light at the end of the tunnel.
- By the time you enter this stage it's easy to get to be tired and exhausted and settle for only a portion of your dream.
- Keep on pushing forward.

4. Fighting in the promise land

In this stage you enter into dominion

- It's a place where you go from blessed to being a blessing
- You go from being saved to bringing salvation to others
- Where you go from business owner to raising up others in business (teaching, mentoring, writing books, producing a content)

Israel goes into the promise land and chooses to settle - their children fight for the rest of their existence

You are not saved from fighting, you were saved for fighting.
